Meet our official
Digital Champion...

One of our team is a Digital Champion!

(Well, we all are really but Simon's made it official). We're delighted he's now working with Digital Enterprise as part of the Digital Knowledge Exchange; a programme of free to attend workshops, masterclasses and mentoring support to owners and managers across the Leeds City Region (LCR).

As an official mentor, Simon is available to provide one to one advice to your business on its technological needs. Offering ongoing support, he - and the team of Digital Champions based across the LCR (the ones looking very smiley in the picture at the bottom of this email) - are available to help through face to face, online and telephone mentoring on the areas most relevant for your business.

So, if you're based in the Leeds City Region and would like to receive an assessment of your online presence and technological needs, supported by a dedicated digital advisor and the creation of a personalised action plan with recommendations and supporting guidance and resources, get in touch with Digital Enterprise today at: www.exa.is/DigitalKnowledge

And, Simon's always available to offer connectivity consultations on the contact details below. It's not every day you have a Digital Champion at your disposal so please don't hesitate to get in touch to receive his expert guidance. (Maybe don't tell him we'll called him an expert, the Champion title has already gone to his head...).
